GRAND KNIGHT'S CORNER

It is a New Year! We need some New Life!! We have had a very busy and successful first half of this Columbian Year. We have fallen way short in recruiting new members to our council. New members bring new life and new ideas. We are well short of our new member goal and even further short on reaching our fraternal benefits goal. Annapolis Council 1384 will host a First Degree on Tuesday, January 18th. We need a good showing of new members. We will host a Second Degree on February 24th. Please search out good potential candidates to join our ranks.

January Business Meeting is scheduled for January 4th at 8PM. We will finalize our operating budget for this year. Officers' Meeting is at 7PM on the same date. Mark your calendars for the District 24 NFL Playoff Party at Annapolis Council 1384 on Sunday, January 23rd.

We need new officers for next year. It has been my pleasure to serve you as Grand Knight for 3 years but it is time for me to move on to make room for new ideas and new leadership. Please consider serving your Council as an officer for next year. Deputy Grand Knight Terry Carney and the Trustees are responsible for developing a new slate of officers for next year. Please reach out to Terry and express your interest in serving. We need you.

Vivat Jesus!

Jan.-Feb. 2011

The beginning of a New Year somehow begets thoughts of new beginnings besides the calendar. Some people say, "This is the year I stop smoking, and begin to look to a healthier life-style." Others claim, "I'm going to lose weight by joining that spa up the road, and get in shape for summer." Still others aver, "I'm serious this time; I'm enrolling in courses at the community college, to work towards a degree I've always wanted." These are all noble intentions, and worthy of pursuit. But, let's be honest; in all probability, only a very small percentage will actually come to reality. Sad, isn't it?

You will notice, however, that all these suggestions are for the outside of oneself. If we want to make a good New Year's resolution, we really have to work from the inside out. What do I mean by that? By "inside," I mean interior, one's spiritual side. I am going to give you a New Year's resolution that will be much more difficult than any of those listed above. It is this: forgive someone for the New Year. That's it; that's all there is to it. Forgive.

Now, in order to forgive, one has to have the humility to break through the hardness of heart that lies encrusted with pride. If we can do that, we could easily pick up the phone, and call that someone whom we haven't spoken to in "ages." How that conversation goes is anyone's guess. But, the mere fact that you are calling them—I guarantee you—will knock their socks off! They will be surprised out of their skin.

Now, at this stage, you cannot, under any circumstances, wimp out. You cannot just leave the conversation on the "How's things going?" stage. You absolutely need to get to the heart of the matter by saying, "We haven't spoken for quite some time, and I think we should re-attach our friendship. What shoved us apart isn't important; we're too good friends for that. How about lunch, say, on Thursday?" Something along those lines. Oh, yeah, it'll be a tough phone call to make, but on the other hand, one of the most profitable that you'll ever make.

Most probably, the underlying reason for the separation in the first place was a silly motivation. But, neither of you wished to back down, neither wanted to give in. So, you just let the separation and the silence simmer and fester. Weeks became months, and months became years. This other party will not call you; so you have to take the initiative and call them. This, my friends, is the nitty-gritty of forgiveness. You can make no more profound New Year's resolution than this. Go for it. Do it. And you'll thank God and His grace for getting you back together again.

Happy New Year!

Fr. Harrison

Recently we held our annual "Keep Christ in Christmas" poster contest at St. Mary's Elem. School. We had an incredible turnout—over 150 kids submitted entries. We were very impressed at the effort and thought the children put into their work. Here are the results:

1st-3rd grade

1st place	Emily Cimaglia
2nd place	Kyle Sheehan
3rd place	Isabella Greenway

4th-6th grade

1st place	Zola Caponitit
2nd place	Chase Webber
3rd place	Julia Newman

7th-8th grade

1st place	Kate Rice
2nd place	Fiona Shearer
3rd place	Michael Hislop

The first place winners in each category will be submitted for entry in the state contest.

Financial Secretary Report

Brothers,

By the time you read this you should have gotten your billing for 2011 for the 2011 Annual Dues of $38.00. On the statement it gives you new payment options. YES you can return it with you Visa/Mastercard Number, expiration date and CVV number from the back of your card. AND by the time you read this you will be able to pay by credit card online. There is an option on our web site (www.kofc1384.org) to enter you dues payment.

Please send it back as soon as possible or fill it out ONLINE. Also, include any changes such as email, address, etc. My database is lacking some information and I need your help to get it up to date. The most glaring omission is your Spouses name since the new form 100 only asks for it on the death notice. That of course is too late when I send the information to Supreme. Thanking you in advance for this help.

On a brighter note, the current Supreme By-Laws have lowered the Honorary dues to $9.00 saving you a dollar. Also, the membership cards will stay with the current white card.

March for Life

Annual March for Life: On Monday, January 24, 2011, we remember the 38th anniversary of Roe v Wade, the Supreme Court Case which legalized the abortion of an estimated 4,000 pre-born children each day. Help become a "Voice for the Voiceless" against the culture of death by attending this annual peaceful March for Life in Washington, D.C. Again this year, a very special thanks to the Annapolis Knights of Columbus Council #1384 for their critical contribution to make this event a success. For a FREE bus reservation and details, call Tom Hurd (410) 263-0253, or Ron Leahy (410) 268-1025.

Also, see the flyer in this newsletter.

Years ago, my Dad met a STRANGER who was new to our small town. From the beginning, Dad was fascinated with this enchanting newcomer and soon invited him to live with our family. The stranger was quickly accepted and was around from then on.

As I grew up, I never questioned his place in my family. In my young mind, he had a special niche. My parents were complementary instructors: Mom taught me good from evil, and Dad taught me to obey. But the stranger...he was our storyteller. He would keep us spellbound for hours on end with adventures, mysteries and comedies. If I wanted to know anything about politics, history or science, he always knew the answers about the past, understood the present and even seemed able to predict the future! He took my family to the first major league ball game. He made me laugh, and he made me cry. The stranger never stopped talking, but Dad didn't seem to mind.

Sometimes, Mom would get up quietly while the rest of us were shushing each other to listen to what he had to say, and she would go to the kitchen for peace and quiet. (I wonder now if she ever prayed for the stranger to leave.) Dad ruled our household with certain moral convictions, but the stranger never felt obligated to honor them. Profanity, for example, was not allowed in our home... Not from us, our friends or any visitors. Our longtime visitor, however, got away with four-letter words that burned my ears and made my dad squirm and my mother blush. My Dad didn't permit the liberal use of alcohol. But the stranger encouraged us to try it on a regular basis. He made cigarettes look cool, cigars manly and pipes distinguished. He talked freely (much too freely!) about sex. His comments were sometimes blatant, sometimes suggestive, and generally embarrassing.

I now know that my early concepts about relationships were influenced strongly by the stranger. Time after time, he opposed the values of my parents, yet he was seldom rebuked... And NEVER asked to leave. More than fifty years have passed since the stranger moved in with our family. He has blended right in and is not nearly as fascinating as he was at first. Still, if you could walk into my parents' den today, you would still find him sitting over in his corner, waiting for someone to listen to him talk and watch him draw his pictures.

His name?.... . . .

We just call him 'TV'

He has a wife now....We call her 'Computer'

Their first child is "Cell Phone"

Second child "iPod"
